ISG FOUNDER HONORED BY ASIS INTERNATIONAL WITH QUARTER CENTURY AWARD Award Recognizes Twenty Five Years of Service and Provides Distinction as Certified Protection Professional

MERIDEN, CT (May 28, 2009)... Harry Azano, CFE, CPP and Founder of Integrated Security Group (ISG), has been awarded the Quarter Century of Service recognition by ASIS International for his dedication, commitment and loyalty to elevating the knowledge and effectiveness of the industry of security professionals.

“It’s truly an honor to be recognized with this prestigious distinction. I’ve continually aspired to bring real-world security and life safety solutions to the forefront of the industry to better educate all stakeholders on how to continually deal with the challenges and threats the industry and its professionals are faced with on a daily basis,” stated Harry Azano, CFE, CPP and President of ISG.

“We’re very fortunate to have someone of Harry’s stature and expertise leading our organization. ISG wouldn’t be breaking new ground in providing thought-provoking security and life safety solutions that challenge the status quo and the illusion of safety without Harry’s insight in dealing with the complexities of modern-day security issues,” noted John McKenna, Vice President of ISG.
